

A man of great faith, founder and executive director of CommunityAid, Glenn Chandler calls the success of this non-profit organization a miracle. "We believe by the ministry of CommunityAid we are fulfilling our calling to serve the community and to share the love of God to our fellow neighbors" says Chandler.

Bethesda Mission was one of CommunityAid's first partners. Chuck Wingate, Executive Director of Bethesda Mission, appreciates Community Aid's commitment to the local community. "CommunityAid and Bethesda Mission make Central Pennsylvania stronger by helping those in our midst who are the most vulnerable."

Another original partner of CommunityAid is New Hope Ministries. According to New Hope's Executive Director Eric Saunders, "CommunityAid has provided financial support and clothing donations to help our agency make a difference in the lives of thousands of local families in poverty get the help they need and build a better life. They have been our good neighbor through challenging times and have embodied Christ's charge to "Love your neighbor as yourself."

From the largest non-profit serving thousands of people annually, to the smallest community church or fire station, CommunityAid has been able to provide millions of dollars in financial support and free clothing care cards since 2009. This support allows non-profits facing financial restrictions to expand the reach and success of their mission.

"If you know someone who needs clothes or food, you shouldn't say "I hope all goes well for you. I hope you will be warm and have plenty to eat." James 2:15-16

What good is it to say this, unless you do something to help?

We are neighbors helping neighbors. We are CommunityAid.

WATER STREET MISSION

Restoring lives through rescue & renewal.

At a time when countless communities are struggling to stay financially afloat, CommunityAid has stepped forward as a beacon of hope for many of them. Established in 2009, CommunityAid is a faith-based 501 (c) 3, non-profit organization, whose primary focus is to raise funds for distribution to local schools, churches, synagogues, and nonprofit charitable organizations.

By hosting a bin to benefit Water Street Mission, you allow CommunityAid to place a clothing collection bin on your property visible to the public. Easily recognizable, CommunityAid bins are tan and feature three helping hands.

The donated clothing in the bins is removed several times each week and sold in CommunityAid thrift stores. Based on the weight of the clothing in each bin, Water Street Mission is awarded with a quarterly cash donation per pound.

In addition, Water Street Mission receives free clothing vouchers (Care Cards) for the needy in their area, which can be used in one of CommunityAid's thrift stores.

Business partners have found that allowing a CommunityAid bin on their property demonstrates their interest in the community while drawing more traffic to their business.

This partnership will allow Water Street Mission to continue to improve the quality of life for individuals and families in our local communities.
